

January 17, 2012,

Press release

Ganko Films announces the production of Phantom

Ganko Films announces the production of Phantom, the first feature film by Jonathan Soler.

In 2010, Jonathan Soler directed Aru Manazashi (Glance), 52 minute experimental film shot in Japan. Phantom will be his second film shot in Japan.

SYNOPSIS OF PHANTOM:

In Tokyo, a girl and her boyfriend spend a night talking about their life, their precarious condition and their difficulties to earn a living, their place in the world, if ever they have one...

Jonathan Soler – About the film:

“I prefer not to say too much about it so far, but the process of the shooting will allow me to make a quite unusual film. I can say that it will be experimental, but accessible nonetheless. I can say that it will be dreamlike. And it will deal with the concerns of those who has to enter the adult world in a time of economical instability.”

Phantom English official site: <http://gankofilms.fr/phantom-en/>

Press files of Phantom: <http://gankofilms.fr/presse/phantom/>